Policy Dialogue

Border Control in the Neighbourhood: EU, Australia and the US

Presented by the Jean Monnet Migration and Integration Network (PPCEUMI)

Friday 24 August, 10am to 2.30pm

At the ANU Centre for European Studies, 1 Liversidge Street, Acton ACT 2601

This policy dialogue will bring together academics, diplomats and policy makers to discuss border control experiences from the European Union, Australia and the United States. This one-day event will include two sessions on how states engage with their regional partners to 'extend' the border to manage regular and irregular migration. Speakers will provide context on existing border control policies and how states use diplomatic and financial tools to encourage and discourage different forms of migration.
